Franchise Challenges and Solutions. Is your franchise structured to provide the authority and flexibility that your city or county regulator – and you – need to offer services within the franchise and respond to attempts to disrupt it? Illegal haulers are always evolving in their efforts to gain a foothold, and threats also may arise unintentionally due to lack of franchise enforcement, especially around customer service issues. The proper franchise terms help support the regulators, as well as the franchised companies, with the goal of excellent service in programs delivered to the customers. Come hear a panel of ORRA members and a local government representative discuss how to solve these challenges. Speakers: Paul Seitz, Lincoln County Solid Waste District; Trent Carpenter, Southern Oregon Sanitation; and, Walter Budzik, Thompson’s Sanitary. Council House

Moderator: Katie Hardesty, Recology Western Oregon Waste - Coast

Monitor: Kennedy Jantzi, Re:Source

Inside the Beltway: Federal Policy Trends in Waste and Recycling. Think your job is messy? Try juggling exploding batteries, packaging laws that vary more than coffee orders at a hipster café, and an EPA budget that’s been put on a crash diet of just bread and water. In this fast-paced session, we’ll unpack the tangled web of Packaging EPR legislation—where it’s passed, how it’s going, and why no two states can seem to agree on the recipe. We’ll spark a discussion on lithium batteries, the tiny ticking time bombs hiding in your curbside bin. And just when you think it couldn’t get more exciting, we’ll dive into the thrilling world of federal funding—or lack thereof—and what it means for the future of recycling programs across the country. Bring your questions, your caffeine, and maybe a fire extinguisher. It’s going to be a ride. Speaker: Anne Germain, Chief of Technical & Regulatory Affairs at the National Waste & Recycling Association (NWRA).

Lincoln/Pine

Now that the kickoff date has come and gone, what is next? This session will update the status of navigating through the start-up, including what to expect in the coming months, and then as time allows, forecasting the future. Speakers: Greg Ryan, CAA; Arianne Sperry, DEQ; Laura Leebrick, Rogue Waste/WCI; and, Vinod Singh, Far West Recycling. Council House

Moderator: Lexi Howell, North Lincoln Sanitary Service

Monitor: Ashley DeWalt, Rehrig Pacific Company

Noon-12:45 Lunch with Associate Member Indoor Exhibits Long House

12:45-1:30 Dessert with Associate Member Outdoor Equipment. Celebrating ORRA’s 60th Anniversary with dessert and a group photo in the Associate Member Outdoor Equipment area. Parking Lot

1:30-2:45 General Session: From Curiosity to Capability: Exploring AI’s Real-World Power. Curious about AI but not sure where to begin? No tech background? No problem! Step into an inspiring session with Janell Goplen, Founder of Coltella, an AI Integrations and Marketing Company—and the visionary behind the Oregon AI Conference. Janell brings her signature energy and clarity to this beginner-friendly experience, showing you how to unlock the potential of AI tools that are already within reach. You’ll learn actionable tips and fresh confidence to start using AI right away. Bryan Staley, PhD, President & CEO of the Environmental Research & Education Foundation, pulls back the curtain on how AI is revolutionizing the solid waste industry. From intelligent route planning and real-time safety monitoring to AI-driven customer service that simplifies billing and communication—these tools are already reshaping operations. And that’s just the beginning. Get an exclusive look at what’s next: predictive maintenance, autonomous fleet support, and more. Whether you’re in operations, sustainability, or simply curious about practical AI applications, this session will expand your vision of what’s possible, specific to our industry. Just bring your curiosity and get ready to discover practical, real-world ways AI can streamline your daily tasks and supercharge your productivity. Council House

I’m From the Government and I’m Here to Help...In this case, that saying is very true! Did you know that OR-OSHA Consultation Services offers a no cost, confidential, worksite evaluation at your business? These services are separate from enforcement actions. OR-OSHA’s on-site consultation program is an underutilized resource that provides expert guidance without triggering citations or penalties. OR-OSHA can identify the top safety issues in your industry and help identify and resolve them in your business. OR-OSHA will not provide other businesses with information about your participation, hazards, or business processes. When you request a consultation, you will receive a written report with recommendations for corrections, which will help eliminate or control hazards specific to your workplace, which will ultimately result in fewer injuries, reduced Workers Compensation costs, and improved employee morale. Consultations also offer SHARP, which is a five-year commitment to improving the safety and health of your business. Attend this session to learn more about all of this and other programs currently offered, including the Challenge Program. Speaker: Chris Hernandez, Sr. Occupational Safety Consultant, OR-OSHA. Council House

Moderator: Julie Jackson, Republic Services of Salem

Monitor: Dori John, Roseburg Disposal

I'm Just a Bill... and Other Lies They Told You. Whether you're a policy junkie or just here for the free coffee, we promise this legislative update won't be boring. Join Craig Campbell, ORRA Governmental Affairs Director, for a fast-paced, slightly cheeky behind-the-scenes look at how laws are really made (spoiler: it's not like Schoolhouse Rock), plus practical tips on how to connect with your legislators without needing a lobbyist badge or a law degree. Think of it as political group therapy—with policy updates.
